

WisdomTree Announces Nine New Blockchain-Enabled Funds are Effective with the SEC
*Ten total digital funds now effective ahead of planned public launch of blockchain-native wallet
WisdomTree Prime™*

NEW YORK, December 14, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) –WisdomTree, Inc. (NYSE: WT), a global financial innovator, today announced that nine new digital funds¹ have become effective with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), leading up to the planned national public launch of the WisdomTree Prime mobile application, targeted for the first quarter of 2023.

The nine new digital funds reflect a variety of different exposures and each digital fund will invest in traditional assets, including the WisdomTree Short-Duration Income Digital Fund (WTSIX) that was developed leveraging WisdomTree’s model portfolio capabilities, and the WisdomTree 500 Digital Fund (SPXUX) – the firm’s first digital fund seeking to track performance in the U.S. equity market. The WisdomTree Floating Rate Treasury Digital Fund (FLTXX) is also notable as WisdomTree continues to serve as a leader in providing exposure to floating rate treasuries, with the WisdomTree Floating Rate Treasury Fund (USFR) bringing in over $10 billion in net flows thus far in 2022. The nine new digital funds are:

- WisdomTree 3-7 Year Treasury Digital Fund (WTTSX)
- WisdomTree 7-10 Year Treasury Digital Fund (WTSTX)
- WisdomTree Long Term Treasury Digital Fund (WTLGX)
- WisdomTree Floating Rate Treasury Digital Fund (FLTXX)
- WisdomTree TIPS Digital Fund (TIPSX)
- WisdomTree 500 Digital Fund (SPXUX)
- WisdomTree Technology and Innovation 100 Digital Fund (TECHX)
- WisdomTree Short-Duration Income Digital Fund (WTSIX)
- WisdomTree S&P 500 Twitter Sentiment Digital Fund (TWTRX)

“These nine new digital funds exhibit the type of curated experience we expect to be able to provide to WisdomTree Prime users, all bringing mainstream assets into the evolving digital ecosystem,” said Will Peck, WisdomTree Head of Digital Assets. “We believe that blockchain-enabled finance has the potential to improve the investor experience through enhanced liquidity, transparency and standardization, which we aim to achieve over time, and these nine digital funds are setting the foundation as we seek to bridge the gap between traditional finance and digital finance today.”

This announcement comes after the SEC declared effective WisdomTree’s first digital fund, the WisdomTree Short-Term Treasury Digital Fund (WTSYX), earlier this year, with the fund expected to launch in the near future. Access to WisdomTree’s digital funds is anticipated to be through the

WisdomTree Digital Funds – Important Information

Each WisdomTree Digital Fund (each, a “Digital Fund”) invests at least 80% of its assets in either fixed income securities (e.g., U.S. Treasuries) or equity securities (e.g., U.S. listed stocks) as further described in each Digital Fund’s prospectus. Reference to “blockchain enabled” is meant to reflect the fact that each Digital Fund uses blockchain technology. The Digital Funds will not directly or indirectly invest in any assets that rely on blockchain technology, such as cryptocurrencies.

² Each digital fund is expected to be available for purchases and sales only via the WisdomTree Prime mobile application as facilitated by WisdomTree Securities, Inc., an affiliated broker. Brokerage commissions are expected to apply on all purchase and sell orders of digital fund shares. WisdomTree Securities, Inc. is not involved in the recording of a digital fund’s shares on a blockchain or related recordkeeping.

A blockchain is an open, distributed ledger that digitally records transactions in a verifiable and immutable (i.e., permanent) way using cryptography. A distributed ledger is a database in which data is stored in a decentralized manner. Cryptography is a method of storing and transmitting data in a particular form so that only those for whom it is intended can read and process it. A blockchain stores transaction data in “blocks” that are linked together to form a “chain”, and hence the name blockchain.

There are risks associated with investing, including possible loss of principal. Because each Digital Fund is new, it has no performance history. Blockchain technology is a relatively new and untested technology, with little regulation. Blockchain systems could be vulnerable to fraud, particularly if a significant minority of participants colluded to defraud the rest. Potential risks also include vulnerability to theft, or inaccessibility, and future regulatory developments could affect its viability. For the Digital Funds investing in U.S. Treasury obligations, such obligations may provide relatively lower returns than those of other securities. Changes to the financial condition or credit rating of the U.S. government may cause the value to decline. Fixed income securities are subject interest rate, credit, inflation, and reinvestment risks. As interest rates rise, the value of fixed-income securities fall. For the Digital Funds investing in U.S. equity securities, the trading prices of U.S. equity securities fluctuate in response to a variety of factors, such as economic, financial or political events that impact the entire market, market segments, or specific issuers. The types of U.S. equity securities in which an applicable Digital Fund may provide relatively lower returns than those of other securities.

Cybersecurity attacks affecting a Digital Fund’s third-party service providers, the mobile phone application used to transact in Digital Fund shares, blockchain network, or the issuers of securities in which the Digital Fund invests may subject the Digital Fund to many of the same risks associated with direct cybersecurity breaches.*
