SUMMARY

- The Issuer is putting forward the Proposals to the ETP Securityholders of the Affected Securities as part of a volatility-proofing exercise intended to enhance the robustness of the Affected Securities during periods of significant market volatility, and because it believes that they would improve the stability of the Affected Securities and would make the Affected Securities less susceptible to adverse outcomes from volatility in the relevant futures markets.

- The Issuer further believes that the Proposals bring the Affected Securities in line with current best practices and help to ensure the Affected Securities' viability in today's market.

- The Issuer's Proposals are to amend the terms of each class of Affected Securities in order to introduce an Overnight Restrike mechanism and a Discretionary Index Change mechanism and to increase the Severe Disruption Event Threshold and the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold in respect of the Affected Securities, as described in this document.

- The Overnight Restrike mechanism would cause the restrike mechanic to be available for the Affected Securities outside of the "Standard Trading Hours", an explanation of this mechanic is described in further detail below.

- The Issuer believes that the Overnight Restrike mechanism will cause the Affected Securities to be more robust and less exposed to being compulsorily redeemed due to severe overnight market movements.

- The Proposals also include two further changes to the terms of the Affected Securities: an increase to the Severe Disruption Event Threshold and an increase to the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold.

- A Severe Intraday Market Disruption Event (which is triggered by reference to the Severe Disruption Event Threshold) and a Severe Overnight Gap Event (which is triggered by reference to the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold) each constitute a Severe Disruption Event. Where a Severe Disruption Event occurs, the Swap Provider may terminate the relevant Swap Transaction which, if that Swap Transaction is not replaced, results in the compulsory redemption of the relevant class of Affected Securities.

- The increase to the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold is proposed alongside the Overnight Restrike mechanism. The increase to the Severe Disruption Event Threshold is proposed independently of that mechanism, on the basis that a higher threshold reduces the likelihood of a Severe Intraday Market Disruption Event occurring and therefore of a compulsory redemption. Each increase reduces the likelihood of a compulsory redemption occurring and allows ETP Securityholders to remain invested and retain their intended exposure.

- The Discretionary Index Change mechanism will introduce an ability for the Issuer to change the Index, subject to the Swap Calculation Agent and the Swap Provider consenting, in respect of an Affected Security upon notice. The new index must have a substantially similar strategy to the current Index which may include an index which provides exposure to the same underlying asset by reflecting exposure to different month contracts. An explanation of this mechanic is described in further detail below.

- The Proposals do not themselves designate any successor index. If the Discretionary Index Change mechanism is approved and subsequently used, the Issuer will provide notice to ETP Securityholders in accordance with the Conditions.

- In respect of the Discretionary Index Change mechanic, market dynamics are ever changing and can acutely affect the investability of a given asset, especially when there are acute structural issues affecting normal functioning of the relevant markets. Handling such events often necessitates changes in the nature of a holding. With respect to the Affected Securities, the mechanism by which the exposure can be changed is through the relevant Index. Allowing the Issuer to change the Index permits it to be more responsive to market conditions. The Issuer believes that the timeline which would be implemented by the proposed change will provide the right balance between responsiveness and notice to ETP Securityholders.

- The Issuer wishes to introduce the Proposals and requires the consent of the ETP Securityholders of each class of Affected Securities to do so by making changes to the Conditions insofar as they apply to each class of Affected Securities.

LETTER FROM THE ISSUER

WISDOMTREE MULTI ASSET ISSUER PUBLIC LIMITED COMPANY

(Incorporated under the laws of Ireland under company number 515981)

Registered office:

To all Holders of Affected Securities

Dear ETP Securityholder

Proposals for the introduction of an Overnight Restrike mechanic and a Discretionary Index Change mechanic, and for increases to the Severe Disruption Event Threshold and to the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold, in respect of the Affected Securities

This letter sets out the reasons for and further details of the Proposals and the Meetings.

Introduction

As you will know, this calendar year has seen particularly high volatility in the price of commodity contracts.

The Issuer has therefore been considering proposals to seek to mitigate some of the risks associated with that unprecedented volatility for the benefit of ETP Securityholders, the Issuer and the Swap Provider and to improve the product robustness of the Affected Securities.

This letter sets out proposals which, the Issuer believes, are in the best interests of ETP Securityholders, and is subject to your consent by the passing of an Extraordinary Resolution in respect of each class of Affected Securities.

The Affected Securities are designed to provide exposure (before fees and adjustments) to the relevant Index. The purpose of the Proposals is to change the terms of the Affected Securities so that the Affected Securities incorporate an Overnight Restrike mechanic, a Discretionary Index Change mechanic and increases to the Severe Disruption Event Threshold and to the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold in order to help mitigate some of the risks associated with market volatility.

The Overnight Restrike mechanic

What is a Restrike Event?

Currently the methodology to calculate the Price per ETP Security of the Affected Securities incorporates an intraday rebalancing mechanism (if the Affected Securities incorporate an element of leverage) whereby if the value of the Index falls (assuming the Product Leverage Factor is positive) by more than the relevant trigger level, an intraday rebalancing (the "Restrike Event") will occur if such change in the value of the Index occurs within the "Standard Trading Hours" for the relevant Affected Securities. Upon reaching the relevant trigger level the Affected Securities will be rebalanced to a new level (the "Restrike Price") to alleviate the risk of a fall of 100 per cent. in their value. Such intraday adjustment seeks to protect the holder of Affected Securities in the event of extreme market movements on any single Valuation Date (since the last Price per ETP Security was calculated) by crystallising the losses incurred up to that point. The Restrike Event is similar in some respects to the rebalancing of the Affected Securities which normally occurs at the end of each Valuation Date, although the former occurs before the end of the Valuation Date and could occur more than once per day.

The Restrike Price is calculated over the Restrike Period. This process starts when the Index falls (assuming the Product Leverage Factor is positive) by the relevant trigger level but in cases where the underlying asset continues to fall the restrike may conclude with a new reference point significantly lower than the threshold itself. In some cases, the reset may not have time to conclude before the Index falls far enough that the Restrike Price of the ETP Securities would be zero. Where the Restrike Price is close to or at zero, the Swap Calculation Agent may determine at its sole discretion to increase the Restrike Price to a maximum of one percent of the previous Valuation Date's Price or the previous Restrike Event's Restrike Price.

As a result of the intraday rebalancing, ETP Securities may experience considerable tracking deviation on such day and the price of such ETP Securities may be different than expected. In addition, the Swap Provider will pass on any additional costs or profits in executing the intraday rebalancing (where applicable), as determined by such Swap Provider, which may change the price of such ETP Securities.

At the end of a Valuation Date on which an intraday rebalancing occurs, the ETP Security will rebalance once more as if it were the end of a normal Valuation Date.

What is the proposed Overnight Restrike mechanic?

This proposed Overnight Restrike mechanic would make a similar restrike mechanic available outside Standard Trading Hours to the mechanic currently available during Standard Trading Hours. These Standard Trading Hours are dependent on the terms of the Affected Securities which are as follows:

Name of Affected Securities	Standard Trading Hours
WisdomTree Copper 3x Daily Leveraged	5:00 – 13:00 New York Time
WisdomTree Copper 3x Daily Short	5:00 – 13:00 New York Time
WisdomTree Gold 3x Daily Leveraged	5:00 – 13:30 New York Time
WisdomTree Gold 3x Daily Short	5:00 – 13:30 New York Time
WisdomTree Natural Gas 3x Daily Leveraged	5:00 – 14:30 New York Time
WisdomTree Silver 3x Daily Leveraged	5:00 – 13:25 New York Time
WisdomTree Silver 3x Daily Short	5:00 – 13:25 New York Time
WisdomTree Palladium 2x Daily Leveraged	5:00 – 13:00 New York Time

The difference between the restrike mechanic that occurs within Standard Trading Hours and the proposed restrike mechanic that occurs outside of the Standard Trading Hours is that the "Restrike Period" for the proposed overnight restrike will continue from the relevant trigger event until the earlier of (i) 3 hours later or (ii) 15 minutes after the commencement of the Standard Trading Hours.

The longer "Restrike Period" allows the Swap Calculation Agent to restrike the price to the lowest level during that "Restrike Period" so there is a greater chance for the Restrike Price to be lower. The Issuer believes that the addition of the Overnight Restrike mechanic reduces the likelihood of a Severe Overnight Gap Event leading to the compulsory redemption of the Affected Security allowing ETP Securityholders to retain their intended exposure.

The Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold

What is a Severe Overnight Gap Event?

A Severe Overnight Gap Event occurs where the Swap Calculation Agent determines that the level of a Reference Benchmark has moved adversely, between the Effective Valuation Time on the immediately preceding Valuation Date and the commencement of Standard Trading Hours, by more than the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold. A Severe Overnight Gap Event is one of the two events that constitute a "Severe Disruption Event" under the Commodity Securities Annex to the Conditions, the other being a Severe Intraday Market Disruption Event, which is described separately below.

Where a Severe Disruption Event occurs, the Swap Provider may either postpone the relevant Valuation Date or terminate the relevant Swap Transaction on notice to the Issuer. If a Swap Transaction is terminated and the Issuer is unable to enter into a replacement Swap Transaction, a Compulsory Redemption Event occurs in respect of the relevant class of Affected Securities and ETP Securityholders cease to hold the exposure they intended to hold.

What is the proposed increase to the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold?

The Issuer proposes to increase the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold applicable to each class of Affected Securities from the percentage set out in Column (H) of the table in Schedule 1 to the Eighth Omnibus Amendment Deed to the percentage set out in Column (I) of that table. This proposed increase does not change the Restrike Threshold, which will continue to determine when a Restrike Event occurs.

The purpose of the proposed increase is to reduce the likelihood that an adverse price movement occurring outside Standard Trading Hours results in the compulsory redemption of the relevant class of Affected Securities. Under the proposed framework, where an overnight market movement reaches the Restrike Threshold, the Overnight Restrike mechanic may operate over an extended Restrike Period. This is intended to allow the Swap Calculation Agent to establish a revised Restrike Price and to preserve the continuing operation of the Affected Securities, rather than requiring a Severe Overnight Gap Event to occur at the existing lower threshold.

At present the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold and the Restrike Threshold are set at the same level for certain classes of Affected Securities, with the result that a single overnight movement may both trigger a Restrike Event and constitute a Severe Overnight Gap Event. Setting the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold above the Restrike Threshold is intended to give the Overnight Restrike mechanic the opportunity to operate before the more severe consequences of a Severe Disruption Event arise.

The proposed increase to the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold therefore reflects the additional risk-management tool made available by the Overnight Restrike mechanic. It does not change the existing Restrike Threshold applicable to intraday and overnight restrikes; rather, it raises the level of overnight movement at which the more severe consequences of a Severe Disruption Event may arise.

This proposed increase is independent of the proposed increase to the Severe Disruption Event Threshold described below.

The Severe Disruption Event Threshold

What is a Severe Intraday Market Disruption Event?

A Severe Intraday Market Disruption Event occurs where, on a Valuation Date, (i) an Index Component Disruption Event occurs or exists and (ii) the Swap Calculation Agent determines that the level of a Reference Benchmark has moved adversely on that Valuation Date by more than the Severe Disruption Event Threshold. A Severe Intraday Market Disruption Event is the second of the two events that constitute a "Severe Disruption Event", and has the same consequences as those described above.

What is the proposed increase to the Severe Disruption Event Threshold?

The Issuer proposes to increase the Severe Disruption Event Threshold applicable to each class of Affected Securities from the percentage set out in Column (F) of the table in Schedule 1 to the Eighth Omnibus Amendment Deed to the percentage set out in Column (G) of that table.

This proposed increase is independent of the proposed increase to the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold described above, and does not impact the Overnight Restrike mechanic. The Overnight Restrike mechanic operates only in respect of a Restrike Event occurring outside Standard Trading Hours and has no application to a Severe Intraday Market Disruption Event, which is the only event to which the Severe Disruption Event Threshold is relevant.

A higher Severe Disruption Event Threshold reduces the chances of a Severe Intraday Market Disruption Event occurring, and therefore reduces the likelihood of the Swap Provider terminating the relevant Swap Transaction and of the consequent compulsory redemption of the relevant class of Affected Securities.

Effect of the proposed threshold increases on ETP Securityholders

Neither proposed increases to the Severe Overnight Gap Event Threshold or the Severe Disruption Event Threshold affects the right of ETP Securityholders to request an Optional Redemption on any day should they wish to exit the relevant Affected Security. The proposed increases intend to allow ETP Securityholders who wish to do so to stay invested and to retain the economic exposure they have as holders of the Affected Securities.

The Discretionary Index Change mechanic

The Issuer proposes to incorporate a mechanic where the Issuer has the right to change the Index in respect of a class of Affected Securities, provided that the Issuer has given the ETP Securityholders not less than 5 Currency Business Days' notice and that the successor index must have a substantially similar strategy to the current Index, for the avoidance of doubt, this may include an index which provides exposure to the same underlying asset by reflecting exposure to different month contracts.

Any such successor index will be chosen by the Issuer in its sole discretion and the Issuer may exercise this right for any reason without the consent of the Trustee and need not take into account the interests of the ETP Securityholders in doing so.

In respect of the Discretionary Index Change mechanic, market dynamics are ever changing and can acutely affect the investability of a given asset, especially when there are acute structural issues affecting the normal functioning of the relevant markets.

Handling such events often necessitates changes in the nature of a holding. With respect to the Affected Securities, the mechanism by which the exposure can be changed is through the relevant Index. Allowing the Issuer to change the Index allows the Issuer it to be more responsive to market conditions. The Issuer believes the proposed timeline strikes the right balance between responsiveness and notice to ETP Securityholders.

The Proposals

With your approval, the Proposals will be effected by the entry into the Eighth Omnibus Amendment Deed to amend the terms of each class of Affected Securities.

The Issuer believes that, taken as a whole, the Proposals set out in this Part 1 would improve the stability of the Affected Securities and would make the Affected Securities less susceptible to adverse outcomes from volatility in the relevant futures markets. The Issuer further believes that the Proposals bring the Affected Securities in line with current best practices and help to ensure the Affected Securities' viability in today's market.

The Proposals require the consent of the holders of each class of Affected Securities by Extraordinary Resolution. The Proposals do not constitute amendments that would require special quorum resolution provisions (as described in the Trust Deed) to apply.

This letter includes the notices convening the Meetings at which the Extraordinary Resolutions will be proposed.

Further information

In Part II of this document is some background information on the terms of the Affected Securities and further details of the purpose and effect of the Extraordinary Resolutions to be proposed at the Meetings.

Action to be taken

For the Proposals to become effective in respect of each class of Affected Securities, it must be sanctioned by an Extraordinary Resolution of the holders of each class of the Affected Securities. In accordance with Schedule 7 of the Master Trust Deed, the ETP Securityholders have the power to sanction any proposal by the Issuer or the Trustee for any modification, abrogation, variation or compromise of, or arrangement in respect of, the rights of the ETP Securityholders against the Issuer, whether or not those rights arise under the relevant Trust Deed or any Collateral Pool Security Deed. The Proposals vary such rights.

Enclosed with this circular is a form of proxy for use at the Meetings. In order to vote you are urged to complete the form of proxy and return it as soon as possible, and in any event so as to be received no later than 9 a.m. (the "Applicable Time") on 20 October 2026, in accordance with the instructions set out in the form. Completing and returning a form of proxy will not preclude you from attending and voting at the Meetings if you wish to do so.

The Meeting

ETP Securityholders who have not submitted or delivered or arranged for the submission or delivery of proxy as provided above but who wish to attend and vote at the Meetings may do so in accordance with the voting and quorum procedures set out in the relevant Notice of Meeting.

Implementation of the Proposals

The proposed amendments to the Trust Deed to effect the Proposals in relation to the Affected Securities will take effect, assuming that the Extraordinary Resolutions are passed at the Meetings (or any adjournment thereof), as set out in the expected timetable.

Trustee

In accordance with its normal practice, The Law Debenture Trust Corporation p.l.c., as Trustee, has not been involved in the formulation of the Proposals, the Trustee expresses no opinion as to the merits of the Proposals, the terms of which were not negotiated by it, or the Extraordinary Resolutions and has no opinion on whether the ETP Securityholders would be acting in their best interests voting for or against the Proposals or the Extraordinary Resolutions. It has however authorised it to be stated that, on the basis of the information contained in this document (which it advises holders of Affected Securities to read carefully), it has no objection to the form in which the Proposals and Notice of the Meeting are presented to holders of Affected Securities for their consideration. The Trustee makes no representation that all relevant information has been disclosed to the ETP Securityholders in connection with the Proposals in this document or otherwise. The Trustee is not responsible for the accuracy, completeness, validity or correctness of the statements made in this document or omissions therefrom. Nothing in this document should be construed as a recommendation to the ETP Securityholders from the Trustee to vote in favour of, or against, or abstain from voting in respect of any of the Proposals or the Extraordinary Resolutions. The Trustee recommends that the ETP Securityholders take their own independent professional advice on the merits and the consequences of voting in favour of, or against or abstaining from, the Extraordinary Resolutions and the Proposals.

Recommendation

The Issuer considers the passing of the Extraordinary Resolutions to be in the best interests of the holders of Affected Securities as a whole and therefore recommends that such holders of Affected Securities vote in favour of the Extraordinary Resolutions.

Yours sincerely

Margaret McCarthy

for and on behalf of

WisdomTree Multi Asset Issuer Public Limited Company

Copies of the following documents will be available for inspection by way of request via email during normal business hours on any weekday (Saturdays, Sundays and public holidays excepted) from the date of this document up to and including the date of the Meeting (and any adjournment thereof) and at and during the Meeting (and any adjournment thereof):

(a) the Trust Deed;
(b) the Prospectus;
(c) a draft (subject to modification) of the Eighth Omnibus Amendment Deed to give effect to the Proposals.

Holders who wish to inspect the documents are directed to contact Apex IFS Limited at IFSCOSEC@apexfs.com, and will require proof of identity and holding.

5. Voting and Quorum requirements

The quorum at any meeting for passing an Extraordinary Resolution, which do not constitute amendments that require a special quorum resolution, is two or more ETP Securityholders or agents present in person holding or representing in the aggregate more than 50 per cent. of the number of Affected Securities for the time being outstanding, or at any adjourned meeting convened the quorum shall be two or more ETP Securityholders or agents whatever the number of ETP Securities so held or represented. An Extraordinary Resolution is passed by a majority of at least 75 per cent. of the votes cast at a duly convened meeting.

If a quorum is not present at any of the Meetings it will be adjourned until such date, not less than 14 nor more than 42 calendar days later, at the time and place as the chairman may decide (the "adjourned meeting").
