

2021 Preliminary Estimated Capital Gains Distributions

Based on NAV and shares outstanding as of 11/12/2021

Please note these year-end preliminary estimates were based upon the best information available. The information presented here isn't final; these are only preliminary estimates and are subject to significant change as we finalize our calculations.

All estimates are subject to significant change based on a number of factors, including changes in the number of shares outstanding, fund-level tax adjustments and/or reclassifications, changes in capital gain estimates that may occur between the date when these estimates were prepared and the date when the actual capital gain amounts are finally determined, and other factors. These factors may also result in some WisdomTree ETFs, which currently show no estimated capital gain distributions, making a distribution at year-end.

The final per share amounts will be based on the actual number of shares outstanding on the Funds' record date, which we expect will differ from the number of shares outstanding when these estimates were prepared.

To estimate your distribution for a Fund on this list, multiply the number of shares you own by the Fund's estimated total distribution. Your final distribution will be based on the number of shares you own on the Fund's record date.

There are risks associated with investing including possible loss of principal. Foreign investing involves special risks, such as risk of loss from currency fluctuation or political or economic uncertainty. Funds that focus their investments in one country or region may be significantly impacted by events and developments associated with the region which can adversely affect performance. Funds focusing on a single sector and/or smaller companies generally experience greater price volatility. Fixed income investments are subject to interest rate risk; their value will normally decline as interest rates rise. Fixed income investments are also subject to credit risk, the risk that the issuer of a bond will fail to pay interest and principal in a timely manner or that negative perceptions of the issuer's ability to make such payments will cause the price of that bond to decline. Investments in emerging, offshore or frontier markets are generally less liquid and less efficient than investments in developed markets and are subject to additional risks, such as risks of adverse governmental regulation and intervention or political developments. Investments in currency involve additional special risks, such as credit risk and interest rate fluctuations. Derivative investments can be volatile, and these investments may be less liquid than other securities, and more sensitive to the effect of varied economic conditions. Due to the investment strategy of certain Funds, they may make higher capital gain distributions than other ETFs. Please see prospectus for discussion of risks.

Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the Funds carefully before investing.
