

WisdomTree Japan Hedged Equity Fund (DXJ) Surpasses $2 Billion In Assets

Currency-Hedged Japan Fund Doubles Its Assets In Under a Month

New York, NY – (GlobeNewswire) – January 22, 2013 – WisdomTree (NASDAQ: WETF), an exchange-traded fund (“ETF”) sponsor and asset manager, today announced the WisdomTree Japan Hedged Equity Fund (DXJ) recently surpassed $2 billion in assets, more than doubling its assets in just under a month. DXJ is designed to offer broad exposure to the Japanese equity market – with a tilt toward the exporters, who may stand to benefit from a depreciating yen – while hedging the currency fluctuations between the value of the Japanese yen to the U.S. dollar.

Jeremy Schwartz, WisdomTree Director of Research, commented, “Newly elected Prime Minister Shinzo Abe has been very effective through his plans and aggressive rhetoric to weaken the yen, and as a result, there has already been improved market sentiment in the world’s third largest economy<sup>1</sup>.”

Mr. Schwartz added, “I believe DXJ offers the best tactical tool for gaining access to a country that possesses a strong negative correlation, or relationship, between its currency and its equity markets. DXJ attempts to remove one element of risk – fluctuations of the yen’s exchange rate versus the U.S. dollar – from the equation, thus, creating the potential for a strategic place in an investor’s portfolio should the yen further weaken or even stabilize in value over the long term.” View standardized performance here.
